Re: Friends of Child Advocates announces the 2015 Angels of Hope Luncheon and Fashion Presentation

Release date: July 30, 2015

Location: Houston, Texas

Tuesday, December 8, the Friends of Child Advocates will host their annual Angels of Hope Luncheon and Fashion Presentation. More than 600 attendees will gather at the Hilton Americas in Downtown Houston to raise funds for Child Advocates' mission of breaking the cycle of child abuse.

Luncheon chairs Marlene Casares and Brandi Maxwell, along with honorary chair Linda J. Messner will welcome Houston's fashionistas to an afternoon of fashion and inspiration to kick off the holiday season. The luncheon is open to the public and will begin at 11:30 AM, concluding with a raffle of amazing prizes by 1:30 PM. The Neiman Marcus fashion show will feature the 2016 spring collection from designer ETRO. This year, the friends of Child Advocates will be honoring longtime supporter and court appointed advocate volunteer Sindi Sonnier.

There are several options for tables and seating when purchasing tickets. Individual tickets range from $300 to $1,500 and tables are priced between $3,000 and $20,000. The Angels of Hope Luncheon has a long history of promoting awareness of Child Advocates' work in the community. The money raised from this event helps the organization continue to train and mobilize court appointed advocate volunteers for the abused and neglected children of Harris County.

Last year, the Angels of Hope Luncheon and Fashion Presentation raised over $435,000. The Friends of Child Advocates hope that with the support of the community, this year's luncheon will be a success and raise more funds and awareness for Houston's littlest victims.
